

Watercolor that is worth another look.

The power of watercolors should never be limited to works on paper. QoR® Artist Watercolors and Ampersand Aquabord™ are practically made for each other - if not actually made for each other. The luminous effects that distinguish Ali Cavanaugh's portraits demand the unique qualities of a brilliantly white, workable surface, and paints that dance with light as it reflects off that surface through them. Painting on panel elevates the scale and durability of watercolors and reduces the need for additional framing, mats and glass. Scan this code to see what is possible.
